1. About the Grand Solutions programme

The Grand Solutions programme invests in ambitious and preferably interdisciplinary research and innovation projects that can create new, specific solutions to important, politically prioritized societal challenges and create value throughout Denmark. To the extent possible, the Grand Solutions programme invests in projects carried out in close collaboration between research institutions and the business community or public customers of solutions, for instance municipalities and regions. Innovation Fund Denmark encourages cross-disciplinary projects in all parts of the value chain – from foundational research (in Danish: grundlagsskabende forskning) to industrial research and experimental development.

Within the Grand Solutions programme, a two-phase application model will be adopted. Phase 1 is a request for a letter of interest and open to all interested applicants, whereas phase 2 is a request for a full application and only open by invitation.

Applicants for phase 1 will be invited to phase 2 if two conditions are met:

- a) Innovation Fund Denmark evaluates their letter of interest from phase 1 as an interesting and relevant proposal.
- b) The number of invited applications will result in an approximate success rate of 30-50% within phase 2

Innovation Fund Denmark distributes the available funds in open competition between projects that demonstrate the greatest positive effect while at the same time contributing to growth and employment in Denmark.

The distribution of the funds for this call originates from the current Finance Act and the agreement on the disposition of the Research Reserve (see links under section 5: Guidelines and inspiration).

<sup>1</sup> The Innovation Fund Denmark may at its discretion decide to increase the overall budget for this call, particularly in case of excess funds when faced with a substantial list of qualified applications in this call that cannot be funded within the original budget.

2. Aim of the call

With investments within stem cell research and technology, Innovation Fund Denmark will support that Denmark's strong knowledge- and research position within the field is transformed into inventions, products and technologies which benefit citizens in Denmark, healthcare sectors, companies' net income and Danish exports. The funds must contribute to creating societal value and economic growth for private and public companies and/or consumers in the society, not least in the life science sector. As far as possible, the research must therefore be carried out in close interaction between research institutions and the business community, and with interaction from end-users, if relevant.

The projects can contribute to:

- Stem cell research and technology.

The projects can support the development of local business powerhouses (in Danish: erhvervsfyrtårne) (see link in section 5: Guidelines and inspiration).

Research should be performed according to The Danish Code of Conduct for Research Integrity.

3. Decision criteria

The three overall decision criteria are:

- Quality of idea – the quality of the research and innovation
- Impact – value creation during and after the project
- Quality of execution – efficiency in the project execution and the implementation of results

Further information about the decision criteria can be found in the Guidelines for Grand Solutions Phase 1 and Guidelines for Grand Solutions Phase 2. Please note that the evaluation criteria differ in the two phases (see link in section 5: Guidelines and inspiration).
